

CHURCHILL FINANCIAL GROUP PROVIDES FINANCING FOR CLEARLAKE CAPITAL'S INVESTMENT IN GOAMERICA

New York, NY – March 20, 2008 – The Churchill Financial Group (“Churchill”), a leading commercial finance and asset management company, has provided financing to support Clearlake Capital Group’s (Clearlake) investment in GoAmerica, Inc., (GoAmerica). Churchill was the administrative agent for the credit facility. Based in New York, Clearlake is a private investment firm that integrates private equity, leveraged finance and special-situations in investing in both private and public market opportunities.

GoAmerica (Nasdaq: GOAM) is a leading provider of integrated communications solutions serving the deaf and hard-of-hearing. Based in New Jersey and founded in 1996, GoAmerica’s services enable its customers to communicate more effectively through the company’s online and wireless text relay services.

“We are pleased to have supported Clearlake in the structuring, financing and execution of this complex transaction,” said George Kurteson, Senior Managing Director and Head of Middle Market Finance for Churchill. “Their research into this intricate market enabled us to develop a personalized investment strategy that could be delivered upon quickly.”

“Churchill took the time to understand our business needs and worked with us to develop a comprehensive financial solution that made sense,” said Behdad Eghbali a partner at Clearlake. “Their client-focus approach and senior-level attention enabled us to move seamlessly through the financing process.”

Kevin Murray, a Managing Director at Churchill Financial added, “Our middle market expertise and flexible approach enabled us to deliver a tailored debt financing package. We’re delighted to have worked with Clearlake on GoAmerica.”
